FREED BY JUDGE, ARRESTED AGAIN

Ed. Doud Principal in Legal Entanglement This Morning

"Unconstitutional" was the decision handed down by Judge G. C. Prentiss, when the validity of the law granting certain criminal jurisdiction to the probate court was brought up in the habeas corpus proceedings of Ed Doud in justice court today.

Doud was arrested several days ago as a suspect and a search revealed skeleton keys in his possession. He was taken before Judge Brindley of the probate court, who bound him over to the circuit court. The action this morning was on habeas corpus proceedings, Doud's attorney, F. E. Withrow, contending that the plaintiff was unlawfully detained, the probate court having no jurisdiction.

The decision of Judge Prentiss was followed by an order releasing the prisoner. He was immediately rearrested pending an order from the circuit court for a review of the case, which was granted later by Judge Fruit.

EAU CLAIRE SHUTS OUT THE SAINTS

Judging by the result of their playing with Eau Claire in which they lost two of three games, the St. Paul team of the American association stands to lose two straight when they play with the Wisconsin champs here tomorrow and Sunday. Yesterday the Eau Claire team shut the Saints of the major league out, 4 to 0.

Says the Pioneer Press: "A bunch of ball players wearing the St. Paul uniforms was shut out by the Eau Claire team of the Wisconsin league at the downtown ball park yesterday afternoon by a score of 4 to 0. The Eau Claire team played a scrappy game and won out by hitting Pitcher Krick in bunches.

"The Saints were unable to hit Slow Ball Pitcher Fiske and got a man to third base only once. The feature of the game was the work of Malven in center for Eau Claire. He made several circus catches of hits close to the fence, shutting off a couple of runs.

"Eau Claire scored one in the first on a single, a sacrifice and a single. Four straight singles in the seventh gave them three more.

Following was the score by innings:
R. H. E.
St. Paul .....000000000-0 8 0
Eau Claire .....100000300-4 9 1
Batteries—Krick and O'Malley; Fiske and Long.

HEARD CRY WHERE MEDIUM POINTS

Clairvoyant Again at Work and Queer Coincident Comes to Light

Was Mrs. Stephen Yohe killed by the train that forced her from the trestle over the La Crosse river, or did she jump with Mrs. Klawitter to struggle in the water, hanging to the bushes as the sprint swept her along the way, only to be overcome by exhaustion?

Since the efforts of Mrs. Cagle, a clairvoyant, living on Avon street to locate the body, it develops that shortly after the accident faint cries were heard near an overhanging bush, and, following the direction, Policeman Thomas McDonough, H. W. Singer, Ollie Ash and others sought along the bank only to find that the moans ceased and that the woman, if it was she, had disappeared.

When Mrs. Cagle went into a trance yesterday afternoon to discover the location of the body, she moved along the bank to the same spot where the searchers had heard the cries and described the scene of the drowning. A thorough search of the place failed to bring up the body and efforts for the day were abandoned. This afternoon another trial was made by Mrs. Cagle, but up to the time of going to press nothing definite had been accomplished.

Since the coincidence of the moans heard by the searchers and the spot selected by Mrs. Cagle, Mr. Yohe stated that Mrs. Yohe was probably not killed by the train, as was first supposed from the broken side comb found on the bridge but that she was alive after she struck the water.

OSHKOSH AND GREEN BAY MAY DESERT TO FOX VALLEY LEAGUE

According to the following dispatch from Fond du Lac, Green Bay and Oshkosh may not be in the Wisconsin state league next year:

"The much talked of state baseball league composed of the cities of the Fox River valley will be a certainty next year. Although the present season has hardly closed efforts are being made to get the baseball magnates of the principal cities of the valley together.

"Baseball men in all the Fox valley cities have expressed their desire for a purely valley league. They believe that with a circuit composed of Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Neenah, Menasha, Appleton and Green Bay, with either Manitowoc or Sheboygan for the sixth team, the organization could be made a paying proposition.

"Oshkosh and Green Bay, now in the state league, long ago expressed a favoritism for the Fox River Valley league. It is understood that both cities will break from Powers' organization if the Fox River Valley league is pushed through. The other cities are even more desirous of effecting a combination."

HILL ON THE GRIDIRON

(Tribune Special Service.)
ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 21.—Much interest is manifested in the Hastings coal rate case, which came up for hearing before the railroad commission today. James J. Hill has been summoned to appear before the commission and tell about his Great Northern road, his northern Minnesota iron mines, and their relation to the new federal law governing railroads. The question at issue is whether the new law is violated by the personal holdings of Mr. Hill in iron properties and at the same time in a controlling interest in the Great Northern, which hauls ore from the mines. The question is practically the same as that involved in the case of the coal-carrying roads of Pennsylvania, and which was decided adversely to the railroads.

It costs but the postage required to mail it. It will be sent to any address for 6 cents. The book is "Wonderland 1906" published by the Northern Pacific railway, and is for general distribution. Send 6 cents to A. M. Cleland, general passenger agent, St. Paul, Minn., or as many times 6 cents as you wish copies, with proper addresses, and the little volume will be promptly forwarded by that gentleman. Don't wait! The book has an object—to educate and inform the public about the northwest, the region that Lewis and Clark explored and made known to us. Help it perform its mission.

There is nothing that helps a town prosper like buying the goods it manufactures.

There are represented herewith some of our most prosperous and best manufacturers of commodities — goods that are of the highest grade.

La Crosse has made wonderful strides of progress in five years. It is chiefly because the "trade at home motto" has imbued the people. Our citizens have scoffed at the highly colored and luring advertisements of the mail order grafters, which kept La Crosse in the ranks of the villages for decades, and have wisely determined to support home manufacturers — the people who support them.

CITY NEEDS ELECTRICAL INSPECTOR

No more serious demand is pressing at this time than that for the establishment of an official electrical inspection in this city.

Indeed, one of the things that La Crosse is remarkable for is not having an electrical inspection. It is the marvel of the insurance people that none is maintained here. It would be hard to find anywhere a progressive city the size of La Crosse that does not possess an official electrical inspector.

Under our present no-inspection way of doing business there is an unnecessary danger of fires. Electricians engaged in wiring, where the contracts are let at competitive biddings, go away below the limit of what is profitable, in order to underbid rivals and secure work. Then they make even by putting in inferior materials in a slipshod manner. The result is fires, and many of them.

You see, there is nothing to prevent this sort of business deception. The wiring is done and covered up, and no one is wiser. If all but one firm attempted to do work that the board of underwriters might approve, and if that one firm cut below fair charges to get the work and then took it out of the builder by using poor stuff and slighting the job, that one dishonest wirer would get all the work. So, if one cheats, the rest must cheat in order to get even.

That is what is going on in La Crosse now. It is impossible to say who started it, but all the firms are doing more or less inferior wiring on competitive jobs. It frequently happens that jobs are let at gross figures that would not have been sufficient to pay for the material used, let alone do the work had the underwriters' rules been lived up to.

The need of a city inspector is apparent. Fewer fires, lower insurance—these are considerations that would pay for the inspection many times during every year. Moreover, it is a fact that poor wiring is expensive to the property owner in another way. Poor wiring means loss of current and greatly increased consumption of electricity. That costs money.

This idea was brought forcibly to the attention of the public by a controversy exploited in the city council recently. A quarrel between local wiring firms brought an expert here from the board of underwriters. The inspector, a Mr. Boyd of Chicago, visited a number of buildings in course of construction, and he announced the wiring uniformly bad. In fact, he said much of it was ROTTEN.

That is an intolerable condition. La Crosse cannot afford to be bickering with the underwriters about who shall pay for electrical inspection. It is evident that the insurance men won't, and it is equally certain that eventually the city will have to pay. Why not now, before more damage is done. One price of defective wiring might destroy a city and kill a thousand people. What would it have been worth to Chicago to have had an inspector to look after Mrs. O'Leary's cow?

THE VIROQUA FIRE

The crowd was there two thousand strong

At th' great Viroqua fair;
In fact the people were so thick
That they were everywhere.
When Lo! There rose a cloud of smoke!

The flame-lit sky was red!
An epidemic kitchen fire
Had started out to spread!

Fire! Fire! Fire!
Viroqua is aflame!
Fire! Fire! Fire!
Oh what a burning shame!

Then "Cap" McLaughlin peeled his coat
And all his clothes about,
And Doctor Lutz declares he blew
The d—n fire out.

A wail of anguish rent the air,
And whispered gossip rose
Of how Miss Maud McCarty spilled
Some coal oil on her hose.

McLaughlin had no hose at all,
But like a hero great,
He rang in 4-11 and
And started out to wait.

Fire! Fire! Fire!
Viroqua is aflame!
Fire! Fire! Fire!
Oh what a burning shame!

Then "Cap" McLaughlin peeled his coat
And all his clothes about,
And Doctor Lutz declares he blew
The d—n fire out.

Then true to station discipline
The captain strolled about,
Arriving at the fireside
As the fire was dying out.

"Step lively there," he shouted,
"I'll tell you what to do."
Just telephone to Central
To ring in "2."

Fire! Fire! Fire!
Viroqua is aflame!
Fire! Fire! Fire!
Oh what a burning shame!

Then "Cap" McLaughlin peeled his coat
And all his clothes about,
And Doctor Lutz declares he blew
The d—n fire out.

FANNY FAN.

NOTABLE BIRTHDAYS.

Clark Howell

Clark Howell, who recently was defeated by Hoke Smith in a contest for the governorship of Georgia, was born in South Carolina, September 21, 1863. After leaving the University of Georgia in 1883, he served his journalistic apprenticeship on leading newspapers in New York and Philadelphia. When he was 21 he accepted the night editorship of the Atlantic Constitution, and three years later Henry W. Grady made him his assistant managing editor. Mr. Howell was nominated to the Georgia legislature just before he reached his majority, and his election followed a few days later. He was twice re-elected, and during his third term acted as speaker of the house. On the death of Mr. Grady, Mr. Howell retired from legislative service to become editor and later the proprietor of the Constitution. He has always been prominent in Georgia politics and has served a number of years as the representative of his state in the democratic national committee. It is generally conceded that no journalist or public man in the new south has worked harder and more successfully for his section than has Mr. Howell.

A MATTER OF INTEREST TO THEATRE GOERS

The maximum of amusement at the minimum of cost, is a grand consideration, to the theater-going public—and so is a clean, moral domestic play, which tells a true story, of common real every-day life, in a forcible and at the same time, highly interesting and pleasing manner. The distinguished manager and comedian, Frank G. King, has adequately supplied these wants, by the characteristic liberality of his prices of admission, which bring wholesome, refined and intellectual amusement, practically within the reach of the poorest members of a community, and the selection of a play of such sterling worth as "A Homespun Heart" as a medium of entertainment. A play which appeals to the noblest passions and emotions of the human heart, and fairly sparkles with fun, mirth and merriment.

The King-Perkins company will appear in this play at the La Crosse theater, Friday, Sept. 21.

The picturesque melodrama, "Over Niagara Falls," is coming. The play is a modern melodrama, with the customary employment of sentiment, villainy and humor to make it attractive to the patrons of the theater. It more than fulfills its mission. As an elaborate scenic exhibition it is very much above the average melodramatic attraction. The great scene of the Falls of Niagara, over which the heroine is supposed to go in a cask, is a most effective and delightful picture, and the spectator who has seen the great cataract and heard its thunderous diapason will be surprised at the realism of this production.

Will be at the La Crosse theater, Saturday, Sept. 22.

"Her Husband's Sin."

Since the birth of the drama woman's wrongs and sufferings have been the dominant note in plays of the sensational order. Her virtue has been trailed in the dust and the good name of her sex made to stand sponsor for more wrong doing during each theatrical season than has been laid at the door of man in the last half century by writers of modern melodrama. This order of things has been reversed in "Her Husband's Sin," which will be the opening bill of the Hoeffer Stock company at the opera house on Sunday night. Realizing that the American woman, who forms the larger portion of the Sunday night audience in repertoire, had grown tired of the never ending mockery, Mr. Hoeffer determined to find a new theme for at least one play—one play in which woman might be seen at her best from start to finish, free from accusation and suspicion. In "Her Husband's Sin" man is the one to disregard the social and moral laws, and man is the one who suffers in consequence. The success of the play has been very gratifying and has proven beyond a doubt that a modest virtuous and moderately heroic woman is far more pleasing to the average theater goer than one embodying all the known weaknesses of the human race.

In addition to a capable presentation of this and other plays in their repertoire the Hoeffer company promises an exceptionally fine vaudeville bill for each evening during the week. The "headliners" are Spadini, the clown juggler; Castle & Collins, singers and dancers and acrobats; Nina, the electric dancer; Miller, the hand-cuff king; Travelli, illusionist and pantomist; and the Empire comedy quartette. These acts supplemented by the latest moving pictures are introduced throughout the plays and in the intermissions, making a continuous performance from the first curtain to the end of the last act.

The repertoire for the week will contain a number of new plays heretofore not seen here and two or three of the older standard dramas. The proper scenic environment is carried for each production and all plays presented as well within the powers of the acting company.

Lion and Mouse.

"The Lion and the Mouse" which Henry B. Harris will present here at the La Crosse theater on Thursday, Sept. 27, has set every theater goer a talking wherever the Klein piece has been seen. It is a play far out of the ordinary run of dramatic productions and the absorbing story of financial affairs, the plots of trusts, the earnest vindication of the father by his daughter combine to absorb all those who see it. Henry B. Harris has given the play an exceptionally strong cast, and that its presentation here will prove a most interesting event there is every reason to believe.

REV. GOODSSELL TO SPEAK FROM HIS EARLY PULPIT

The Rev. Henry Goodsell, recently resigned from the West Avenue Methodist church, leaves today for Zumbrota, Minn., to deliver an address at the fiftieth anniversary of that city.

As the oldest living pastor of a Zumbrota church, Mr. Goodsell will have an important place on the program for the celebration of the homecoming festivities. He was stationed in that city in 1872, remaining there for three years, then the limit of tenure of one pulpit. He will preach at the Methodist church Sunday morning and in the evening will deliver another sermon at union services.

Mr. Goodsell has returned from the west Wisconsin conference at Platteville and a trip to Chicago, where he preached last Sunday evening. He will not remain in Zumbrota but will go direct to California where Mr. Goodsell now is.

"COFFEE DOESN'T HURT ME"

Tales That Are Told.

"I was one of the kind who wouldn't believe that coffee was hurting me," says a N. Y. woman.

"You just couldn't convince me its use was connected with the heart and stomach trouble I suffered from most all of the time. My trouble finally got so bad I had to live on milk and toast almost entirely for three or four years. Still I loved the coffee and wouldn't believe it could do such damage.

"What I needed was to quit coffee and take nourishment in such form my stomach could digest. I had read so much about Postum, the cereal coffee, but never thought it would fit my case until one day I decided to quit coffee and give it a trial and make sure about it. So I got a package and carefully followed the directions.

"Soon I found I began to get better and was able to eat carefully selected foods without the aid of pepsin or other digests and it was not long before I was really a new woman physically.

"Now I am healthy, hearty and sound, can eat anything and everything that comes along and I know this wonderful change is all due to my having quit coffee and got the big quantity of nourishment I needed through this delicious Postum in place of the dangerous coffee and tea.

"My wonder is why everyone don't give up the old coffee and the troubles that go with it and build themselves up as I have done, with Postum." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Easy to prove by 10 days trial of Postum in place of coffee. The reward is big and "there's a reason."

FACE OF DROWNED WOMAN VISABLE SAYS CLAIRVOYANT

Clairvoyancy was brought into use yesterday in the search for the body of Mrs. Stephen Yohe, who was drowned by being knocked from the trestle into the La Crosse river by a Burlington train Tuesday night.

Mrs. Frank Cagle, a clairvoyant living on Avon street, volunteered her services. After proceeding to a point about 100 feet west of the bridge, where the accident took place, she passed into a trance. "The body lies close to the shore in shallow water," she said. "It seems to be caught in a snag or a bush and is close to the surface of the water. You will be able to see her face as you pass in a boat."

She did not seem to be able to locate the exact spot, but advised Mr. Yohe to search along the shores in a boat as far as the Mississippi, which he did without success.

WALKS LENGTH OF FACTORY AFTER BEING FATALY HURT

Miss Catherine Wright, Injured in Elevator Shaft Yesterday, Dies Thirty Minutes Later

Miss Katherine Wright, an employee of the La Crosse Cracker & Candy company, who was injured in the elevator shaft yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, as announced in The Tribune, died a half hour later from paralysis of the spinal chord.

It was not until Miss Wright had walked the length of the plant after her head had been caught, that she was seen to stagger and the other employees found that she had been seriously injured. Dr. Dvorak was called at once and pronounced her injuries fatal. The ambulance was sent back and Miss Wright was administered to until the end came thirty minutes after the accident. She was removed to her home on the Mormon Coulee road.

The young woman had been an employee of the cracker company for about five weeks, packing crackers on the third floor. Yesterday she left her place to do some sweeping and while working about the elevator shaft, she was seen to climb to the top of the five-foot gate which protects the shaft and look down to the floor below. A moment later the descending elevator caught her, pinching her head between the flooring and the gate.

The elevator was immediately stopped and with the assistance from John Bedessem, the foreman of the third floor, the girl was extricated from her position. Her injuries were supposed to be slight when, without aid she started for the sink at the farther end of the room, arranging her disheveled hair as she went. A moment later she fell into the arms of one of the employees, unconscious.

Medical assistance and an ambulance were sent for at once, and the extent of her injuries were learned. The ambulance was sent back and Miss Wright's condition made as easy as possible. She died a few minutes later.

Funeral services will be held from the residence on the Mormon Coulee road, Sunday at 2 p. m., the Rev. Andreas officiating. Interment will be made in Oak Grove cemetery.

PETITION FOR AND AGAINST PENALTY FOR CONTRACTORS

Those who reside on the lower end of the brick pavement improvement on Caledonia street are indignant over the fact that a petition is being circulated by those who reside on the upper end, for an extension of the contract time for finishing the work.

They claim that those residing on the upper end of it will not be hindered, as that end will be finished first and the street will not be blocked, while those on the lower end will suffer inconvenience if the contract is extended.

It is said that they intend to circulate another petition that the time be not extended.

MILWAUKEEAN OBJECTS TO ESCH'S PARCEL POST IDEA

A Milwaukeean, signing himself L. T., objects to Congressman J. J. Esch's opposition to the parcels post in the following letter to the Milwaukee Free Press:

To the Editor: I notice in the Free Press of the 13th that the Hon. John J. Esch of La Crosse addressed the convention of postmasters in this city disapproving the installation of the parcels post. I allow myself to differ with the congressman for different reasons.

In the first place it would increase the revenues of the postoffice department far above the expenditures, and would relieve the people of the exorbitant charges made by the express companies.

That system is in force in England and in most all foreign countries, and works very well, and there is no good reason why it should not work as well in the United States.

Furthermore the express companies are having agencies everywhere, in the smallest places where the railroad agents act as their agents, which business can be easily attended to by the local postmasters without any extra cost to the government.

The express companies are paying large salaries to their officers, besides paying enormous dividends to their stockholders, and if the business pays so well for the express companies, why should it not be a source of income for the government?

The people in general would be the gainers, and the only losers would be the express companies. —L. T. Milwaukee, Sept. 18.

CONCERT FOR PRINCESS ROYAL

(Tribune Special Service.)

LONDON, Sept. 21.—The duchess of Fife, eldest daughter of the king, who recently underwent an operation as an outcome of severe complications following a chill, is reported well on the road to recovery. The announcement of her satisfactory progress has been received with pleasure throughout the country.

The duchess of Fife is one of the most unassuming young ladies in her father's realm and one of the most popular members of the royal family. She lives her own quiet life either in London, or among the Braemar hills, where she goes about doing her errands like any crofter's wife, and is always quite out of the social whirl so engrossing to the rest of the royal family. Two little girls, of whom she is the proud mother, and the duke, whom she married for love, adore this model of a princess, and may always be seen by her side.

The duke and duchess always spend a few weeks in summer at Duff house, which is a passably good copy of the Borghese palace in Rome, and contains some fine pictures and many interesting associations with Byron, who spent there a good deal of his boyhood. To the duchess, however, who is a most enthusiastic angler, the chief attraction of Duff house is the river Deveron which flows through the park, and in which she has killed many a good salmon.

Starving to Death

Because her stomach was so weakened by useless drugging that she could not eat, Mrs. Mary H. Walters, of St. Clair St., Columbus, O., was literally starving to death. She writes: "My stomach was so weak from useless drugs that I could not eat, and my nerves so wrecked that I could not sleep; and not before I was given up to die was I induced to try Electric Bitters; with the wonderful result that improvement began at once, and a complete cure followed." Best health tonic on earth. 50c. Guaranteed by O. T. Erhart, druggist.

GALLERY OF DRUNKARDS IN FOND DU LAC SALOONS

FOND DU LAC, Wis., Sept. 21.—The common council has passed a resolution that pictures of habitual inebriates shall be posted in saloons. Bartenders will thus recognize their too-oft patrons and are expected to refuse them liquor. Prosecutions are to follow if the proposed law is disobeyed. An ordinance has been ordered drafted, and it is expected that it will be passed at the next meeting of the council without opposition.

A question has arisen, however, that may prevent the passage of the ordinance. It is said that it is against the law to post the picture of anyone who is not a criminal.

ASHLAND COUNTERFEITERS BOUND OVER

ASHLAND, Wis., Sept. 21.—Denise Corr, Fred Jewett and Edward Stevenson, the three counterfeiters arrested last week, waived examination before the federal court commissioner and were bound over to the federal court.

United States Marshal Lewiston, who took the men to Madison yesterday afternoon, having recognized Corr as an old offender who was liberated from Joliet only last June.

The men made the spurious money in the woods only a few miles from Ashland, but the officers have not been able to locate the dies and outfit.

The Breath of Life.

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chiefest study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stephens, of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She writes: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. O, it's grand for throat and lung troubles." Guaranteed by O. T. Erhart, druggist. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON IS COMING

(Tribune Special Service.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—A dispatch from London says that Sir Thomas Lipton sails for New York today on the White Star liner Celtic. While business is the object of his trip to the United States, the American's cup matters undoubtedly will receive his attention during his stay on this side. It is believed that Sir Thomas is as keen as ever on the matter of a challenge. Yachtsmen here are awaiting his arrival with the greatest interest, for rumor has it that the Irish baronet will put the matter of a challenge directly up to the New York Yacht club.

It is said that Sir Thomas is prepared to make two propositions regarding a challenge and is willing to carry out either. In the first place he is willing to challenge under the present rule of measurement and if the challenge is accepted will build a new yacht. Another proposition that it is understood that Sir Thomas will present is to race with Shamrock III under the new rules. The deed of gift states that a beaten boat cannot race again for the cup until two years have elapsed. Shamrock was beaten three years ago and is again eligible as a challenger. Under the new rules Shamrock III would fare very well, while Reliance would be severely handicapped, having to allow something like fifteen minutes over the cup course. This she would be unable to do and Constitution would be more available under the circumstances. This fact would probably cause a hitch in the negotiations as many members of the New York club object to any conditions that will bar the Reliance, desiring to see her once more the cup's defender.

SCHOOL BUILDING CARRIED HALF A MILE IN STORM

BOSCOBEL, Wis., Sept. 21.—The heaviest rain and electrical storm in the memory of the oldest inhabitant struck this vicinity last night. A schoolhouse on Little Green, with Miss Kate Momson as teacher, was carried a distance of one mile and a half, while the water there was two feet higher than ever known before. The Kickapoo branch of the Milwaukee road was inundated with sand and water and the depot at Wauzeka at one time was threatened. The down-pour lasted about two hours.

Miss Tillie Faas spent a few days this week with friends in Sand Lake coulee.

SAVES THREE

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., Sept. 21.—Charles Young rescued three men, John Tuzle, James Walker and Joseph Moreau, from drowning in the Chippewa river.

The men were taking the airship Columbia in a row boat across the river. When in the center of the river the boat capsized. Young first secured the airship to a log and then swam with Tuzle to a boom of logs. He then returned for the other two men who had twice gone beneath the surface of the water.

Young is hailed as a hero worthy of a Carnegie medal by the thousands who attended the Northern Wisconsin state fair here yesterday.

FRIBBLES OF FASHION.

Embroidered Linen Belts Worn With Wool Suits—V Neck Effects.

Embroidered belts of heavy linen will be worn with woolen tailored suits. They usually match the suit in color and are embroidered in exactly the same tone as the linen. It is possible nowadays to get linen in all the fashionable tailored shades.

In Paris V neck effects are contrived in all sorts of unexpected ways. Some of the simplest are nothing more than a modified form of the surplised styles. In the majority of cases these V necks are unusually becoming.

There are echoes of a dozen different famous periods and nationalities in the wraps one sees. Mantles of the old fashioned type are struggling hard for supremacy this fall. One interesting mantle is shirred into curious folds, and if M. Worth was not the designer it would be thought an impossible style.

It is the color of a woman's gown that makes her look young or old; for instance, navy blue is a young color, but black plays havoc with most faces past their first youth.

The gown illustrated is a charming empire affair for a young girl carried out in yellow crape. The skirt is simply trimmed with ruffles of the material. Lace adorns the round neck and forms the tabbed ends that hang over the bodice. The girdle is of brown velvet drawn through a dull gold buckle.

MODES OF THE MOMENT.

Smart Lingerie Run With Black Ribbon—Hint For Foulard Gown.

The latest idea in lingerie is to run black ribbon through the heading. To avoid the possibility of a tint or mourning being conveyed by the somber hue a touch of color is introduced in the costume when a peekaboo waist is worn.

Used by

A stunning princess gown is of black foulard spotted with white coin dots. The skirt is trimmed with three rows of inch wide black velvet ribbon. The bodice, cut V shape back and front almost to the waist line, is finished with a tiny line of parrot green velvet under a line of black. Jet cabochons trim the opening at intervals. The sleeves are small elbow puffs slit up the center and filled in with the finest kind of all over embroidery in a sprigged design. The tight cuffs are of lace adorned embroidery, which also makes the chemisette filling in the V opening. The hat worn with the gown is a picture affair in black neapolitan trimmed with black ostrich plumes. Gloves and shoes are of tan suede.

The 'cutaway' lines which marked some of last winter's suits is noticeable in the fall importations. These cut-away effects are usually attempted only with cloth suitings, broadcloths and cloths of firm texture being chosen for this style.

The blouse pictured is an effective design for silk. A deep plait supplies the fullness at the shoulders, and the front is blocked out to display a vest of broderie anglaise, which in turn is edged and inset with entre deux of cluny.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

It has gone out of fashion to boast of never reading ads. Those who do, not, nowadays, are inclined to keep quiet about it, as they would about any other personal short-coming.
